Tekfestival. At the borders of the world... inside the West
Independent short, documentary and film Festival
5th edition May 2006
www.tekfestival.it

We invite you to set out a journey through global conflicts and revolutions. This journey will begin with focusing on the contradictions of the Western development model and will go along the unpredictable paths that the new forms of activism and daily courage have opened.

The festival is open to metamorphic and impure identities who resist a reality of culture clashes and permanent wars. It is open to life forms who ride along the boundaries between the male and the female, the fiction and the documentary, the centre and the outskirts; to migrants, raving filmmakers, temporarily employed people and cultural interferences.
